

ASKING DATA FOR PARCELS POST LAW

Inquiry Made of Local Merchants Regarding Number and Weight of Fourth Class Packages.

POSTMASTER REMY TO REPORT

Department Endeavoring to Determine Extent of Service So Proper Preparations Can be Made.

Postmaster E. A. Remy is sending out circulars to the local merchants relative to the parcel post law which will become effective January 1. The merchants are requested to answer a number of questions in order to determine the extent to which this service will be used to enable the department to make preparation for prompt and efficient handling of parcels.

The merchants are asked to give the average number of fourth-class parcels now mailed by them daily, and to approximate the average number mailed by them when the law becomes effective. Inquiry is also made as to the average weight and size, and what proportion of the entire number will be for local delivery. The postoffice department wants to know whether the parcels will be mailed in large quantities at stated intervals or if there will be a regular daily mailing. Inquiry is made as to what percentage will be sent C. O. D. when this feature is placed in operation. The merchants are requested to fill out the blanks and to return them to the postmaster who will use them as a basis for his report to the department.

The instructions for the operation of the Parcels Post law are being prepared and it is expected that they will be ready for publication in a short time. For the purpose of carrying this law into effect, the United States is divided into seven different zones with different rates of postage applicable to each. The first zone extends for a radius of fifty miles, the second zone from fifty to one hundred miles and so on until the eighth zone which covers all territory over eighteen hundred miles. The local trade is the lowest and is applicable to parcels intended for delivery at the office of mailing or on a rural route territory from that office.

The law provides "that hereafter fourth-class mail matter shall embrace all other matter, including farm and factory products, not now embraced by law in either the first, second, or third class, not exceeding eleven pounds in weight, nor greater in size than seventy-two inches in length and girth combined, nor in form or kind likely to injure the person of any postal employee or damage the mail equipment or other mail matter and not of a character perishable within a period reasonably required for transportation and delivery."

The circular further continues, "It will be observed that the rates of postage are largely reduced and that the limit of weight is increased from four to eleven pounds. Parcels will be delivered at all free-delivery offices and to patrons residing on rural and star routes; they may be registered and may be accorded special-delivery service on payment of the usual fees, and they may be insured against loss in an amount equivalent to their actual value, but not to exceed $25, upon payment of a fee of five cents. Distinctive stamps must be used on all parcels, but they may be mailed in quantities of not less than 2,000 identical pieces without stamps affixed, the postage being paid in money."

It is expected that further information will be received at the local office within a short time. Considerable interest is shown in the new parcels post law and, as it is an entirely new feature, its success will be watched closely.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Of Mrs. Caroline Massman Will be Held Sunday Afternoon.

The funeral services of Mrs. Caroline Massman, who died of heart trouble about 1 o'clock Wednesday morning at her home on Carter street, will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the St. Paul church, the pastor, Rev. Herman R. Booch, officiating.

Mrs. Massman, who was sixty-five years of age, had been ill for several years. She was born in Cincinnati February 10, 1847 and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Geist. With her mother she moved to Seymour in 1867 and resided here much of the time since. In March 1870 she was married to Garrett Massman. The deceased was a member of the St. Paul church and was a sincere Christian woman. She had a host of friends who knew her as a lady true to the principles of right and who bore her burdens without complaint. She is survived by her husband, one sister, Mrs. John H. Rottman, of Indianapolis, and many nieces and nephews.

GOOD ATTENDANCE

Union Thanksgiving Service Held at The First Baptist Church.

There was a good attendance at the union Thanksgiving service held last night at the First Baptist church. The annual sermon was delivered by Rev. Edward L. Pettus, pastor of the Christian church. The address was well delivered and appropriate for the occasion. The music by the union chorus was especially good.

Christian Church.

The special revival meetings at the Christian church will continue tonight and the pastor will preach upon the subject of "Christian Baptism." The attendance has been good during the week and the interest increases each night. The singing will be in charge of Otis E. Watson, who has been assisting in the meetings since they began.

PING CASE WILL GO TO JURY TO-NIGHT

Generally Expected That Young Defendant Will Be Acquitted of Shooting Her Husband.

EARLY VERDICT ANTICIPATED

Evidence in Rebuttal Given This Morning—Testimony is Completed About 1 O'clock.

The testimony of the last witness in the Ping murder trial at Bedford was completed shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. The prosecutor began the argument shortly after the witness left the stand. The court allowed each side two hours for argument and it is believed that the speeches will be completed and the judge can give his instructions so that the case will be in the hands of the jury by 7 o'clock.

It is expected that the verdict of acquittal will be brought in by the jury in a short time after the cases reaches it. The defense has made a hard effort to establish the plea of emotional insanity at the time the shooting was done, and it is said that even some of the witnesses called by the state testified that in their opinion the defendant was of unsound mind at the time she fired the fatal shot.

The morning was occupied with testimony in rebuttal. The state recalled several witnesses introduced by the defense but they testified that the defendant was not in her right mind at the time she shot her husband James Ping. The defense claims that the young woman worried over the actions of her husband until she was mentally deranged, but since the shooting she has fully recovered.

Mrs. Ping made a strong witness in her own behalf. She gave a sketch of her own life and testified that she did not remember her actions a few days before the shooting. She testified that she remembered stating to her husband on the evening he was shot that "I am ready to die if you are," but did not recall anything that happened until several days later when she found herself in the hospital.

The prosecuting attorney stated in his argument that her questions to various persons and her answers to queries did not indicate insanity and maintained that she should be punished for her crime. The defense maintained that sufficient evidence had been given to convince the jury that at the time she did the shooting she was insane and was not accountable for her deed.

It is not believed that the instructions to the jury will be lengthy. The case was tried before Judge O. O. Swails and Prosecuting Attorney Noble Hays of this city. The parties interested in the case were formerly residents of this county. Ping's first wife, who is now living at Bloomington lived in Salt Creek township before the marriage. Ping was formerly a resident of Owen township, and Maude Michols, who is alleged to be the "woman in the case" lived in Salt Creek township for several years.

HEAVY DAMAGES

Are Asked For Alleged Alienation of Wife's Affections.

A case has been filed by Joseph Stanfield against Charles Abell in which the defendant is charged with alienating the affections of the plaintiff's wife. Stanfield asked for $5,000 damages. Both the parties reside in this city, and Abell was formerly proprietor of the soft drink place in St. Louis avenue.

Stanfield, the plaintiff, obtained a divorce from his wife at the last term of court and on Oct. 17, the same day upon which the decree was granted, was married to Mattie M. Little. Both the parties had been married twice before, the previous marriage having been dissolved by a divorce. Within a week after Mr. Stanfield secured his divorce, his former wife was married to Charles Abell, the defendant in the case, making it her second marriage with one divorce to her credit. This marriage was the sixth for Abell, who lost two wives by death, but his marriage to the other three were dissolved by divorce.

New Women Voters.

Election day, November 5, 1912, will ever be notable in the annals of the movement for woman suffrage as marking the greatest victory it has yet achieved. With the closing of the polls approximately 1,500,000 women voters had been added to an equal number who were already entitled to cast their ballots that day, and the six States where women have this privilege had been increased to ten. Michigan, Kansas, Oregon, and Arizona were the four that had just enfranchised women and placed them on an exact political equality with men. Now, with women enfranchised in all the neighbor States, the Nevada Legislature of 1913 may be counted on to submit a suffrage amendment to the voters, who are likely to accept it. Wisconsin had followed the example set by Ohio two months before and given a majority against the constitutional amendment. This action was not in the slightest degree due to any inferiority of the campaign of the women in its behalf, for in both of these States this was longer and more strenuously waged, more money was expended and more women were engaged in it than in any of the four where the amendment received a majority vote. The difference in the result was caused entirely by the difference in conditions existing in the States.—From "Votes for Three Million Women," by Ida Husted Harper, in the American Review of Reviews for December.

WILL FIGHT CHILD LABOR IN NEW YORK

Drastic Prohibitory Laws to Protect Women and Children in Factories To Be Recommended.

CONDITIONS ARE STARTLING

Girls from Ten to Sixteen Years Are Worked From 4 a. m. Until 10 p. m. in Canneries.

New York, November 29.—Drastic prohibitory laws which will do away with the employment of small children in the canneries of New York state, with the working of women in iron foundries, and with the general abuses in connection with the employment of women and children, will be the first legislation by the incoming state legislature. Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the commission which has been investigating factory and working conditions in the state, declared that his committee would have its report ready soon after the legislature meets on January 1, and that it would offer important remedial legislation.

One of the laws will be along the lines suggested by Miss Mary Chamberlain, the young Vassar graduate, who has been investigating the canneries of the state for the benefit of the committee, that the canneries be brought under the supervision of the state department of labor. If this is done, employees can be worked only sixty hours a week. Other investigators have been working as day laborers in the canneries and their statements, yet to be told, will corroborate the charges of the young woman, it is said.

Miss Chamberlain has sworn that children ten to sixteen years old have worked from 4 o'clock in the morning until 8 or 10 at night, and that in other canneries, children, some as young as five years, have snipped beans in defiance of the law.

Miss Chamberlain worked as a day laborer in canneries at Holly, South Dayton and Albion, and as a seeker for employment she observed conditions at Hamburg, Eden Centre, Silver Creek, Farnham and Fredonia. She kept a detailed record of her observations and submitted it to the investigating committee.

The members of the Eagles lodge and their families enjoyed a very pleasant dance and social at the lodge rooms last night. The excellent music added much to the pleasure of the affair.

The beautiful important Japanese place cards, pictures and other articles at the Presbyterian Bazaar will make most delightful Christmas gifts at moderate cost.

SOCIAL EVENTS

REBEKAH SOCIAL.

The November social committee of the Rebekah lodge with Mrs. Frank Bretthauer as chairman, gave a social at the lodge room Thursday night. The feature of the evening was a play entitled, "In Want of a Servant," which afforded much amusement for the members. Those taking part did their work well and received many compliments.

Rev. G. M. Shuttles gave a talk on "The Good of the Order" which was appreciated by all present. This committee has arranged a number of excellent entertainments. After the program a lunch, consisting of turkey sandwiches, pickles, cake and coffee, was served. About seventy-five were present.

HIMEBAUGH-MONTGOMERY.

The marriage of Mr. Harry Himebaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Himebaugh, of this city, and Miss Peachy Montgomery occurred Wednesday evening at Jeffersonville. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of the Morton Memorial M. E. church by the Rev. J. H. Nicholson.

The groom has a position as government stenographer at Jeffersonville and is an excellent young man. His bride is a popular young lady of Jeffersonville. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Himebaugh came to Seymour for a few days' visit with their parents. They will reside at Jeffersonville.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. held a very interesting session at the home of Mrs. M. C. Black on St. Louis avenue Wednesday. The musical number by Miss Jeanette Black was high appreciated as shown by the general encore. After a social half hour the meeting adjourned to meet December 11 with Mrs. E. Perkinson on South Poplar street.

SHIELDS-VANCE.

The announcement was made Thursday of the marriage of Dr. Harry Shields, of Brownstown, to Mrs. Fannie Vance, of Medora which occurred August 14. They were married in this city by Rev. Harley Jackson at his home on North Chestnut street. The announcement was a surprise to their friends. They will reside at Brownstown.

THANKSGIVING DANCE.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Barskin of Martinsville, and Miss Rose Barskin, of Philadelphia, A. Barskin entertained a large number of friends last night with a Thanksgiving dance at the Society hall. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests. Refreshments were served.

TWELVE O'CLOCK DINNER.

HE WELCOMED BIG IRON DOORS

Harry Moose Glad When Prison
Gates Shut On Him.

RELIEVED OF HAUNTING DREAD

Not Since the Gary Bribery Cases Developed Had Former City Clerk of That Town Enjoyed a Real Rest From Terror Until He Passed the Grim Portals of the State Prison to Enter Upon His Sentence.

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 29.—Harry Moose, the former city clerk of Gary, haunted by fear till the big iron doors of the state prison clanged behind him, is now enjoying the first real rest from terror he has had since the Gary bribery cases developed. When the leaders involved in the bribery charges paid Moose to leave the state they also "shadowed" him, according to his statement. He was never free from espionage, and finally the constant watching of his movements "got on his nerves" and he began to fear every shadow. It was this fear and alleged threats on his life that led him to return and surrender. Moose first sought the protection of Thomas B. Dean, the only man he knew who was not afraid of the Gary crowd. Accompanied by Dean he went to Crown Point. Even there he was afraid that someone would shoot him from the shadows. He told Sheriff Tom Grant that he wished to be put in a cell. Grant informed him that he did not have the necessary commitment papers. He then pleaded for protection. Grant finally gave him a cell in the hospital ward.

And after his plea of guilty Moose feared the trip to Michigan City. He said he would never ride through the streets of Gary. He believed that someone would take a pot shot at him. Sheriff Grant finally suggested they go in an automobile. Moose approved of the plan and the trip was made. It was a cold day for so long a ride, but Moose did not care. Finally the prison was reached. Then for the first time Moose smiled. He was swallowed up by those grim walls, but a load was lifted from his mind. At last he was safe. He walked with a springy step, his head erect, just as it used to be when he was city clerk of Gary and one of the leading citizens. Moose is probably the only man who ever entered the Michigan City prison with a light heart, the terror of the threats made against him having vanished. Moose was sentenced to from six months to five years in prison. He is hoping that it will be five years instead of six months.

MERCHANT TESTIFIES

Detailed Account of a Dynamiting "Job" at Cleveland.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—Edward Kohl, general merchant of North Mendon, O., a suburb of Cleveland, gave the jury in the dynamiting cases a detailed account of the destruction of the bridge that spanned the Erie railroad at that place and pointed out George Anderson, business agent of the Cleveland local, as the man whom he met coming away from the scene of the explosion. Kohl was standing in the rear of his store when the explosion occurred and he grabbed his revolver and a lantern and started toward the bridge. When near the bridge he met Anderson and threw the light of the lantern on his face, recognizing him, and this recognition was confirmed in the courtroom when he pointed Anderson out.

Daniel Gallagher, a former reporter on the Springfield (Mass.) Union, testified that in April, 1911, after the dynamiting attack on the clock tower at the municipal group of buildings in Springfield, Frank J. Higgins, New England organizer for the International Association of Iron Workers, told him that it had cost $300,000 to do the job; that the man who had done it had gone to Albany from Springfield and that he (Higgins) had gone to Hartford, Conn., in order to have an alibi for the date of the explosion.

Ottie McManigal had testified to his attack on the big tower and to leaving for Albany.

BALDWIN TAX CASE

Judge Tillett, in Cass Court, Reduces Amount to Be Paid.

Logansport, Ind., Nov. 29.—In the Cass circuit court Judge Joseph N. Tillett of Peru decided the case of William T. Wilson, executor of the Daniel P. Baldwin estate, against M. M. Minnick, treasurer of Cass county. He canceled alleged unpaid sequestered taxes in the sum of $29,741, which had been placed on the tax duplicates by a tax ferret. Judge Tillett reduced the amount to $3,979.04. He rendered a special finding of facts, and fixed for each year the amount of property which Baldwin had failed to list.

In his review of evidence and testimony the judge said the Baldwin-Dague banks at Ambia, Goodland and Fowler were never solvent, and he expressed the opinion that Judge Baldwin never intended them to be. The judge said Baldwin made a practice of starting private banks, letting them fail, and then starting others. He said he had found many mortgages which Baldwin had never listed.

CALEB POWERS

Kentucky Congressman Who Married Private Secretary.

ENDED IN MARRIAGE

Culmination of Romance That Began in Newport Jail.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 29.—Congressman Caleb Powers of the Eleventh Kentucky district was married to Miss Anna Dorothy Kaufman at the home of the bride in this city. Mr. Powers is forty-six years old and his bride is twenty-six. County Judge Hawkins officiated. At the conclusion of the ceremony the couple departed for Washington.

The marriage came as the culmination of a romance that started seven years ago, when Powers, at the order of the United States court, was brought to Newport and incarcerated in the Newport jail, charged with being an accomplice in the murder of Governor William Goebel.

The windows of the cage in which he was kept a prisoner overlooked the windows of Miss Kaufman's home and one of the first friendly faces that he saw was the pretty one of Miss Kaufman. The latter became interested in the famous political prisoner, the interest became mutual, and it was not long before flowers were sent across the street to Powers's cell.

It was not long until they met, and Miss Kaufman did much to cheer the long, weary hours that Powers spent at the Newport jail before he was returned to Georgetown for trial. Then Miss Kaufman made visits to Georgetown.

During this time Powers was twice sentenced to death and once received a life sentence. Then came the pardon extended to Powers by Governor William Goebel.

When Powers was elected to congress he made Miss Kaufman his private secretary. During his long fight for freedom the Kaufman family was one of Powers's strong financial supporters.

THE HOMECOMING OF ALBERT T. PATRICK

Ex-Convict's First Thought Was of Wife.

New York, Nov. 29.—Bearing the governor's pardon, a free man for the first time in the twelve eventful years he was the shuttlecock of the law, when Albert T. Patrick stepped out the stone-arched doorway of Sing Sing prison he showed that he was capable of human emotions. That was when he said that he was going, first of all, to the wife who was ill and weak. Then his ordinarily emotionless voice broke and his eyes became suffused with tears. He was going to her first of all, and the great plans for the vindication of his name would have to wait until after he greeted her and comforted her as one who had just returned from the grave.

An auto which pressed the speed limit very close brought him to 180 Clermont avenue without a stop, and the elevator of the apartment house was waiting to take him to the floor where the woman who never lost hope was waiting. A daughter, a child when Patrick came into the court twelve years ago, a woman grown now, also was waiting, but to her it was like receiving one from the grave, like an answer to a prayer.

Government Files Its Brief.
Washington, Nov. 29.—Contending that congress has not abridged the freedom of the press by the legislation contained in the last postoffice appropriation bill, which requires newspapers to make statements of circulation, ownership and paid advertising and to meet other requirements before being admitted to the mails as second class matter, the solicitor general has filed a brief in the United States supreme court in opposition to the arguments set out heretofore in briefs filed on behalf of the Journal of Commerce and other publishers, who are attacking the constitutionality of the law.

DEATH IS DUE TO SURGICAL SHOCK

Operation Proved Fatal to
"Dan" Ransdell.

THE END CAME UNEXPECTEDLY

Operated on After the Election at a Washington Hospital Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate Rallied Easily and Was Thought to Be Convalescing, but an Unlooked-for Setback Culminated in His Sudden Death.

Washington, Nov. 29.—As the result of an operation performed here on November 7, Colonel Daniel M. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate, former United States marshal for the District of Columbia, and an intimate friend of President Harrison, is dead.

Colonel Ransdell was one of the well-known figures of public life. He had been sergeant-at-arms of the senate for nearly twelve years, having been elected to the post in January, 1900. As such officer he had practically complete charge of all official senate affairs, the issuing of subpoenas in senate inquiries and the conduct of senate functions. He will be buried at Indianapolis.

News of the death of the sergeant-at-arms caused a shock in Washington, following so closely on the death of Senator Rayner of Maryland, and of Vice President Sherman. He was operated on after the election at a local hospital. He at first rallied and was thought to be recovering, but a setback culminated in his sudden death.

A committee from the senate will accompany the body of Colonel Ransdell to Indianapolis for burial. He leaves a widow, formerly Miss Mary Cathcart of Indianapolis, two daughters and three sons, two of whom are naval officers.

POPULAR CITIZEN

Mr. Ransdell Will Be Missed Among His Indiana Friends.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—Daniel M. Ransdell, late sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate, was born in Indianapolis June 15, 1842, the son of John H. Ransdell. He attended college at Franklin, Ind., for three years, and when the civil war broke out entered the Union army. After the war he took a course in a business college, and then taught school for one year. In 1869 he married Miss Mary Cathcart of Indianapolis.

Local offices held by him were membership in the city council during 1872 and 1873; clerk of the Marion county courts from 1878 to 1882, and member of the board of commissioners which erected the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument. During 1884 to 1889, he was a member of the Republican state committee.

Daniel M. Ransdell was one of the most popular and well liked men the city of Indianapolis ever knew. Genial and companionable here, he was distinguished by the same traits of character during the years of his residence in Washington city.

FAULTY BRIDGE

To This Cause Is Laid the Blame For Disastrous Wreck.

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—The death of four persons and injuries to close to 100 more as a result of the wreck on the Pennsylvania road at Glen Loch Wednesday night, is declared to have been caused by careless bridge inspection. This charge has been made direct by Dr. H. R. Owens, chief police surgeon of Philadelphia, who was one of the first persons to arrive at the scene following the accident. Dr. Owens declares that he found that the abutments of the bridge had sunk eighteen inches. They apparently had sunk just as the two monster locomotives pulling the train had got on the bridge. The assertion of Dr. Owens is not denied by the Pennsylvania officials.

The government already has taken cognizance of the wreck, and has dispatched Chief Inspector Belknap, for the interstate commerce commission, to the scene for the purpose of making a report.

Schumann PIANOS AND PLAYER PIANOS

With scores of makers and dealers calling their pianos best. With loud claims, big advertising and disregard for truth, inferior pianos are being sold to the public because buyers do not investigate.

Buying a piano means you are bringing into your home a lifetime companion, and too much care cannot be exercised in making your selection.

Schumann pianos have been steadily sold to the American public for 65 years, so that the question of durability can be proved to your satisfaction.

Pianos look much alike when new, but time is the only test for durability, maintenance of tone and permanency of construction.

You owe it to yourself and family not to buy any piano or player-piano until you know Schumann virtues. Come in. The Schumann superiority will be apparent as soon as you see, hear and touch it.

- (1) Verse 14—Taking a survey of the past and present, what subject would you say has the most perennial interest for mankind, and why is it so?
- (2) What is the nature and the degree of profit to be derived from discussing religious problems?
- (3) Verse 15—Where had Jesus been and what had happened while he was there?
- (4) Why were the people so much "amazed" at the sight of Jesus?
- (5) What is the reason that the person and the name of Jesus have such a fascination for people today?
- (6) Verses 16-17—What were the scribes probably discussing with Christ's disciples?
- (7) In a family of seven children there are six robust sons, and one daughter with a serious physical infirmity. Which of these children would you say is most beloved, and why?
- (8) Verse 18—How do you harmonize with the love of God the fact that there are so many persons with incurable diseases and who suffer continuous pain?
- (9) Why could not the disciples cure this man's son, and were they to be blamed for their inability?
- (10) Verse 19—What was the most virulent sin of that generation, and what is the most virulent sin of this generation?
- (11) Is it sometimes right for us to cease to be patient, and would you say that Jesus did so in this instance?
- (12) Verses 20-21—What reason, if any, is there to believe that the Devil is angry when sick people are about to be cured?
- (13) Verse 22—Would you say that the Devil delights in seeing intense suffering and violent death? Why?
- (14) Was this father in any measure to blame for not fully believing that Jesus could cure his son? Why?
- (15) Verse 23—What limit, if any, would you place on the possibilities of faith?
- (16) If Christians in these days lived in perfect accord with God as Jesus did, would it be possible for them to cure sickness as Jesus did? Give your reasons.
- (17) Verse 24—How much effect does emotion or intense desire when we pray have upon God in answering our prayers?
- (18) What is the standard by which you would measure the extent of a man's faith? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)
- (19) Verses 25-27—When God in these days casts the Devil out of a man, does it imply that he can "enter no more into him"? Why?
- (20) Verses 28-29—How would you characterize the sin of the disciples for not being able to cast out this evil spirit?
- (21) What would be the effect upon the spiritual power of the church if the members were given to fasting and prayer?

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson IX. December 1
THE LUNATIC BOY. Mark 9:14-29

GOLDEN TEXT.—Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.—Mark 9:23.

For a little while heaven and earth had touched in a new way, by those who had once lived on earth, but had been long absent from it, one by death and one by translation. When the risen and translated saints shall be reigning with Christ in His kingdom (Rev. v, 9, 10; xx, 4) this will probably be the ordinary, everyday occurrence everywhere, the New Jerusalem from heaven and the one on earth in perfect accord, the glorified church and redeemed Israel the heavenly and earthly centers of His kingdom, when a king shall reign in righteousness and the work of righteousness shall be peace and the nations shall learn war no more (Isa. xxxii, 1, 17; li, 4).

As the devil was in control at the foot of the mountain when Jesus and His disciples came down and the disciples there could not conquer him, so it shall be when Jesus Christ shall come in His glory; then He shall bind the strong man, whom the church cannot cast out, and shut him up in the pit and take control of his property, for till then the whole world shall continue in the wicked one as the prince of this world. Let those who would understand take the trouble to ponder, with prayer and meekness and submission to the word of God, the following passages, for it is all important to understand this present age, its ruler and his doom: I John v, 19, 11.

V., John xiv, 30; II Cor. iv, 4; Eph. ii, 2; II Thess. ii, 7-10; Dan. vii, 25; xl, 35, 36; xli, 1, 10; Rev. xiii, 7, 8; xvii, 14; xix, 20; xx, 1-5.

Turning back from this faraway look to the particular incidents of the lesson, we note that it is not in order for us to continue too long in any place of special privilege when there is work to be done and people in distress needing us at the foot of the hill. Special times and places of special revelations of Himself to us are to fit us to be better witnesses unto Him with increasing victory over the world, the flesh and the devil. If the prayer meeting, the Bible class, the Bible conference and such times and places of fellowship with Him do not enable us, in the days following, to show more of His presence and power in the home, the place of business, the social life, where is the benefit? People say, "I was so blessed, I had such an uplift, it did me so much good." Well, thank God, but now show it in your life and you won't need to tell it, and, if your life does not show it, better say nothing about it. The spirit through James teaches us that faith that is mere talk amounts to nothing; there must be works corresponding to our faith for the sake of those who do not understand.

John says, "My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed, and in truth" (Jas. ii, I John iii). The story of this demoniac boy is written briefly in Matthew and Luke, but most fully in Mark. Luke tells us that he was an only child and that when he was healed Jesus delivered him again to his father (Luke ix, 38, 42). An only child given to Jesus' hands is given back better than when He received him, made perfectly whole. He is the same yesterday, today and forever, this same Jesus.

Take in this scene as well as you can—a great multitude, a distressed father, a sorely afflicted only child, some disciples of Jesus truly saved who had on other occasions wrought miracles but now are helpless. "They could not cure him."

Did you ever see yourself, a true follower of Jesus, yet powerless to show something of Him to those who know Him not and unable to help those who need help? Did you say from the heart, "Why could not I?" And did you hear Him say, "Because of your unbelief" (Matt. xvii, 20). And have you been wondering since if you really knew what it means to "have faith in God?" Then what about the prayer and fasting necessary in some cases? Oh, how much there is to learn, and how many seem to have a dumb spirit or an evil spirit of some kind, that seems too often to control us.

"Bring him hither to me" is about what He said concerning the bread when He fed the thousands. "Come unto me" is His cry to all the weary and heavy laden, and we may well say, "Lord, to whom shall we go but unto Thee?" (Matt. xi, 28; John vi, 68). This evil spirit had long sought to destroy this child, and now he made a last effort. The devil has always been and still is a destroyer, a devourer, a murderer, but the Lord is the life giver, the deliverer, the Saviour.

Hear the father's cry, "If thou canst do anything!" His disciple failed. Could He do better? People who do not know the Lord judge Him by His followers. Are we bringing Him honor or reproach? Jesus said unto him, "If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth" (verse 23). "Lord, I believe," cried the father. Jesus rebuked the spirit and commanded him to come out of him. Ere he did so he rent him sore and left him as one dead, but he departed out of him. Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up, and he arose and was cured from that very hour. Our Lord does not give the same power to all, but to each one severally as He will.

DOCTORS FAILED AGAIN

THE GREAT REMEDY SAVED HER.

I am now in very fine condition, thanks to your medicine, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Ten years ago I was taken with kidney and liver troubles and it becoming very severe, I started to take different medicines supposed to cure these diseases and also doctored with well known physicians, but nothing seemed to help or cure me and all the time I was failing very fast until I became confined to my bed. One day I received a sample of Swamp-Root and noticed an improvement immediately after taking same. I then bought a fifty cent bottle and the improvement was so wonderful that I continued taking Swamp-Root until now am in such fine condition that I am running a rooming house with notion store in connection. I highly recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to any one having kidney or liver trouble in any of its various forms.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Manda Sheets,

No COME-BACK When S. S. S. Cures

There is no "come back" when S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison because this great blood remedy so thoroughly cleanses the circulation that not a particle of the old virus is left. After the blood has been purified by S. S. S., this vital fluid is as free from infection as it was before the disease was contracted. One reason why S. S. S. is so successful in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison is that this medicine strengthens and builds up the stomach and digestive members while it is purifying the blood. Thus all the systemic strength is left to assist in the elimination of the virus. S. S. S. is the one certain cure for this powerful blood disorder. This claim is not based upon the treatment of a few cases here and there, but its success extends over a period of more than forty years. During this time thousands upon thousands have found a cure by the use of this great remedy and all were willing to testify that there was no "come-back" after S. S. S. had driven the virus out. S. S. S. does not contain a particle of harmful mineral; it can be used with perfect safety by any one. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free to all.

The Beauty of a South Bend Watch is not case deep, but goes straight through to the springs, screws, staffs, wheels, jewels and all the rest. Perfection in the small usually-overlooked details makes South Bend Watches the world's standard of accuracy, beauty and durability.

This wonderful watch is twelve months in the making. It requires 411 inspections and is tested in an electric furnace and ice before leaving the factory.

Made in Any Model

South Bend Watches are made in any model from the ladies' small, thin model to the standard railroad time-piece. Each is a marvel of accuracy. No one is so blind as the person who won't see. Don't let prejudice blind your better judgment. Old fashioned or unreliable watches are a nuisance. Investigate the South Bend in our store. The facts will surprise you.

Are you a good judge of jewelry?

The better judge you are the more you will appreciate the quality, beauty and low prices of our varied stock of rings, mesh bags, silver buckles, etc. We know jewelry values, and through the facilities our long experience has made, we are able to supply you with best values in jewelry.

JEWELRY FOR PRESENTS

Our store is the ideal place to get suggestions for Christmas, wedding or birthday presents.

The stock is varied and the prices are so varied that every kind of taste and every kind of pocketbook is easily suited. We have many inexpensive but dainty little novelties which will make excellent gifts.

THE WAGE COMMISSION.

The decision of the arbitration board in the wage dispute between the 30,000 engineers and the fifty-two railroad companies settled the question for a time, but it is obvious that the difficulty has not been permanently adjusted. The contention is one between capital and labor and must, therefore, necessarily involve a multiplicity question. Controversies have arisen time and time again between these two factors, compromises have been made, but the question is still far from being settled and it is doubtful if a final adjustment can ever be made under the present system.

The American working man is ambitious and it is because of his ambition that he has made the advancement which appears amazing to the working classes of other countries. Capital on the other hand is eager for profits, and thus the fight continues. In private enterprises the parties may have the right to settle the disputes as they will, but in the case of a public utility a very different question is involved. Fortunately in the case of the railroads the matter was submitted to an arbitration board and a strike was averted. If a satisfactory compromise had not been made the result might have affected the entire country.

The railroads of today are quasi-public utilities. The courts have held that rates and other questions affecting the general public can be submitted to the state and interstate commerce commissions, which have been organized, so that the rights of the passengers and shippers might be protected. By these commissions many of the exorbitant rates and illegal practices have been lowered and stopped.

The employees of railroad companies are in name in the service of the company and receive their wages from it, but in reality their employment extends beyond the bounds of the corporation. They are engaged in handling shipments sent from one part of the country to another. To tie up a railroad because of a difficulty between the company and the employees goes further than a financial loss to the company. It affects the shippers and if carried far enough it closes manufacturing plants and throws thousands of men out of work. Under our present system railroads are a necessary means of transportation.

It is right that the employees of such railroad systems should be well paid for their service. Besides the hard work connected with their employment they encounter many dangers and all of these features should be taken into account when the wage scale is made. The interstate commerce has been successful in lowering rates on various shipments and yet at the same time providing a legitimate profit for the company. It seems to us that if a similar commission were organized to which wage disputes could be submitted an advanced step would be made towards the satisfactory adjustment of this great question. A wage scale must, of course, be revised from time to time as the character of the work changes. The members of such a commission should be prepared to know just what changes have been made and would therefore be in a better position to fix the wage scale in a manner which would be fair and satisfactory to both sides, and just to the public. In such a commission as is proposed it would of course be necessary to select such members who would give fair and impartial opinions. The commission could probably be composed of an equal number of members from either side and in this way the disputes would be determined upon their merits alone.

The arbitration board in its report touches upon this question in the following words:

"Finally, it is the belief of the Board that in the last analysis, the only solution—unless we are to rely solely upon the restraining power of public opinion,—is to qualify the principle of free contract in the railroad service. A strike in the Army or Navy is mutiny, and universally punished as such. The same principle is applied to seamen because of the public necessity involved. A strike among postal clerks, as among the teachers of our public schools, would be unthinkable. In all these cases, the employment, to borrow a legal phrase, is affected with a public use, and this of necessity qualifies the right of free concerted action which exists in private employments.

"However, if the principle be accepted that there are certain classes of service thus affected with a public interest and men who enter them are not free concertedly to quit the service, then these men must be guarded in the matter of wages and conditions by public protection; and this it is believed can best be done through an interstate wage commission.

"The suggestion, however, grows out of a profound conviction that the food and clothing of our people, the industries, and the general welfare of the nation, cannot be permitted to depend upon the policies and the dictates of any particular group of men, whether employers or employees, nor upon the determination of a group of employers and employees combined. The public utilities of the nation are of such fundamental importance to the whole people that their operation must not be interrupted, and means must be worked out which will guarantee this result."

It is recognized that the problem is complex and difficult. The rights of the working men must be protected and conserved, yet at the same time the rights of the public must not be overlooked. It is likely that steps towards such a solution will be made within a short time, and no class will welcome such a move more enthusiastically than the men who are employed in the service of the railway systems.

LAWYER WINS A NOTABLE BATTLE

Albert T. Patrick Once More a Free Man.

PARDONED BY GOVERNOR DIX

New York Lawyer, Long Ago Condemned to Death on the Charge of Murdering William Marsh Rice, Finally Has Won Out in One of Most Remarkable Fights for Liberty in History of American Jurisprudence.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 28.—This morning Sing Sing prison doors opened for Albert T. Patrick, and he went forth a free man again to join his wife, who was awaiting him in New York city.

Governor Dix announced at 6 o'clock last night that he had pardoned Patrick. In 1900 the aged millionaire, William Marsh Rice, died in his New York city home under suspicious circumstances, and Lawyer Patrick was convicted of the murder and sentenced to be electrocuted. By successive appeals he staved off death while in Sing Sing death house for nearly five years, and finally, the Friday before the week during which Patrick was to be electrocuted, Governor Higgins commuted the death sentence to imprisonment for life. Now Governor Dix sets Patrick free and in doing so made this statement:

"There has always been an air of mystery in this important case. Quoting from the minority opinion, the atmosphere that surrounded the defendant showed that a fair and impartial trial was scarcely possible. I trust that Mr. Patrick will devote his energies to a complete vindication of his declared innocence. During the past year I have given much consideration to this case, and am convinced that the defendant is entitled to have a full pardon."

In the court of appeals Patrick's conviction was affirmed by a vote of four to three, and it is the minority opinion of the court of appeals which the governor refers to. Patrick's fight for freedom was the most remarkable fight ever made by a convict in the country. The legal record of it fills eight volumes. The cost to the state was hundreds of thousands of dollars.

William Marsh Rice, a childless widower, died on the evening of Sunday, Sept. 23, 1900. He had been a recluse. His only attendant was his valet, Charles F. Jones, who was arrested for murder, turned state's evidence and said that he had chloroformed Rice at Patrick's behest. Jones received immunity and was released. Not long ago it was said he had confessed, exculpating Patrick.

Patrick was a New York lawyer. It was alleged at his trial that he and Rice had never known each other, although Patrick and his wife have always contended that the millionaire had become acquainted with Patrick's skill as a lawyer and admired it.

In 1896 Mr. Rice, then eighty-six years old, had made a will leaving the bulk of his fortune to the William A. Rice Institute for the Advance of Science, Art and Literature, in Texas, to which he had already given more than $1,500,000. The theory of the prosecution was that Patrick and Jones entered into a conspiracy to forge a new will giving Patrick half of the estate, and that the will having been made, they then conspired to kill Rice.

On Oct. 4, 1900, Patrick and Valet Jones were arrested, not for murder, but for forgery, connected with Rice's second will, and a $25,000 check which it was said Patrick had tried to cash after Rice's death. They were held in $10,000 bail apiece. The intention of the county authorities was to keep the two men while the death of Rice was being investigated. Two weeks later it was announced that a chemical analysis showed that Rice had been killed by poison. The police third-degree Jones for three days. He told them that Patrick had murdered Rice. He made what was said to be a detailed confession and then he tried to cut his throat in prison. There was no evidence that Patrick had anything to do with the maneuvers except the word of Jones.

Policeman Slain by Robbers. Cleveland, O., Nov. 28.—Three auto bandits shot and killed Patrolman Roy E. Bouker last night after robbing and shooting up a meat market at St. Clair avenue and East Sixteenth street. The thugs had an automobile in waiting, and when the policeman tried to prevent their escape they shot him dead.

New York Lawyer Who Has Won His Fight for Freedom.

BIG BOOK SWINDLE DEVELOPING DAILY

Further Facts Revealed in Connection With Case.

New York, Nov. 28.—In the $5,000,000 book fraud case which the federal authorities have uncovered developments are coming thick and fast, implicating James J. Farmer and others of the Anglo-American Authors' association, formerly the Kellar-Farmer company of 225 Fifth avenue.

The Anglo-American association maintained an European agency of which a woman was the head. She collected stationery from well-known foreign hotels and upon these were written the so-called "fictitious millionaire" letters to be distributed later among wealthy and gullible persons who were regarded as possible customers. One aged woman of this city who paid $121,800 for books to the Anglo-American association never saw a single volume. Her entire fortune has been lost in operations extending over six years, and she is now penniless and so ill that she has not been brought into the case.

Federal officers have intimated the total sum involved will reach over $5,000,000. They are having difficulty, however, in bringing here many wealthy persons who, they allege, have been defrauded. One young man is said by Inspector Swain to have killed himself as the result of swindles he was accused of when he refused to pay for books which he had bought. Wealthy men in Philadelphia are said to have found themselves involved in the affairs of the company when they refused to pay for books and have been obliged to give up on threats of exposure of their behavior at "wine suppers."

SCATHING INDICTMENT

Managers of Putumaya Declared Murderers, Bandits and Pirates.

London, Nov. 28.—Testifying before the committee which is investigating the outrages in the Putumaya rubber district of Peru, E. H. Barnes, who went to Peru in behalf of the Amazon company, stated that the system pursued there produced abominable results from a commercial as well as a humanitarian viewpoint. The local managers, he declared, were criminally culpable. A majority of them were murderers, bandits and pirates. The London directors, in his opinion, were less guilty, but they ought to have known of what was going on.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

President Taft is hard at work on the weekly messages with which he intends to bombard congress during the first few months of the session.

Charles S. Mellen denies flatly that he is to resign from the presidency of the Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad companies.

An explosion in a moving picture show in the village of Coloma, Mich., caused the destruction of a block of buildings by fire and injury to several persons.

The engineer, fireman and three negroes were killed when a passenger train on the Southern railroad collided with a freight train on the main line near Memphis.

The mystery has not been lifted in regard to the theft of $50,000 in sovereigns from a consignment from the Bank of England to the Credit Lyonnais of Alexandria.

The dispute between France and Great Britain over gun running at Muscat, Oman, which has embarrassed Franco-British harmony for a decade has reached a troublesome stage.

When a number of police fired on a party of drunken soldiers at Managua the soldiers ran to their barracks and returned with a machine gun, with which they opened fire on the police. Several persons were killed.

TURK TAKES ON A NEW COURAGE

Rejects Proposals Submitted By the Allies.

PEACE STILL SITTING AFAR OFF

The Manner in Which the Ottoman Armies Have Clung to Their Various Positions Gives Nazim Pasha and Representatives of Porte Courage to Refuse to Submit to Initial Demands of Allied Balkan Forces.

Vienna, Nov. 28.—The negotiations which are proceeding at Tchataidja are preliminary to peace, not to an armistice, but the outcome is doubtful. Turkey refuses to surrender Adrianople, Scutari and Janina. She also refuses to pay a war indemnity. Bulgaria is unable to break the Tchataidja line without sacrificing 40,000 men. Mediation by the powers is under consideration. The Russian ambassador at Constantinople is endeavoring to reconcile the views of the belligerents.

London, Nov. 28.—It now seems probable that negotiations for peace between the Balkan allies and Turkey, reported to have been started at Baghetasha, Turkey, will not result in the peaceful conclusion of hostilities that had been hoped for, according to news that has been received from the various European capitals.

The fact that the Turkish forces have so long been able to hold Adrianople against such terrific odds and the fact that the Montenegrins have not been able to pierce the defenses of Scutari, give the Turks some ground for refusing to comply with the demands of the allies that these two towns, as well as Janina, be surrendered. The strength of the Turks' position behind the Tchataidja lines also gives him courage in refusing to submit to the demands of the allies.

But in spite of these dark predictions as to the failure of negotiations, the tension throughout Europe has been perceptibly lessened.

The belief that Germany, France and Great Britain will succeed in averting the conflict toward which they seemed for a few days to be tending, has grown. Diplomats see a reason to be especially hopeful over the report that Austria-Hungary has agreed to allow Serbia a seaport on the Adriatic as well as to the question about the future of Albania. If this comes true a dangerous pressure has been removed.

The reports which come here from Constantinople are not encouraging to those who are looking for the immediate solution of the Balkan question by the peace allies, now said to be deliberating. Nazim Pasha and one of the representatives of the porte rejected the proposals submitted, and in turn gave out counter proposals.

A special correspondent in Vienna says: "Optimism reigns in Austria-Hungary now. The search for elements of composure is general and every political incident, trivial or indifferent, receives correspondingly favorable interpretation. Turkish reserves are arriving daily from Asia Minor. They are well fed and well clad and full of vigor. Under these circumstances the Turkish negotiators will refuse to discuss the surrender of Adrianople, Scutari and Janina. No greater error could have been committed than to attempt to impose such hard conditions on a country which still possesses vast military reserves and which only needs to carry on the war another month to counteract the splendid victories of the allies and turn the tables on Bulgaria. Greece is wisely moderate and will benefit correspondingly. The Russian ambassador at Constantinople is working hard to reconcile the conflicting views of the belligerents and hopes to succeed."

TAKING IT HIGHER

Final Test to Be Made of the Marshall Constitution.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28.—The new constitution case, decided by the Indiana supreme court against Governor Marshall and other prominent Democrats and the Indiana legislature of 1911, which sought to submit a new organic law to the people of the state for ratification or rejection, has been appealed to the United States supreme court by attorneys for Governor Marshall, L. G. Ellingham, secretary of state, and the former state board of election commissioners, all of whom were defendants in the litigation last July. The Indiana supreme court held the proposed instrument invalid.

The purpose in reviving the litigation is to get a decision from the United States courts on whether a constitutional convention held in Indiana would be subject to injunction at the hands of the Indiana supreme court.

Entire Village in Danger. South Bend, Ind., Nov. 28.—In the $10,000 fire at Lakeville, ten miles south of here, Philip Lucomb, aged eighty, and his wife, lost their general store, their home and everything they possessed. It was only after a hard fight that the town was saved.

NAZIM PASHA

Rejects Peace Proposals and Gives Out Counter Proposals.

LITERARY SIDE OF MINE EXPLOITATION

More About the Case of Hawthorne and Others.

New York, Nov. 28.—Some of the letters written by Julian Hawthorne, who dropped literature to take up the exploitation of a mine, as he expressed it, were read to the jury which is trying the novelist and his associates—ex-Mayor Quincy of Boston, Dr. William J. Morton and Albert Freeman, the mining promoter—all of whom are charged with having swindled the public out of millions of dollars by fraudulent use of the mails.

The "literature" submitted to the jury dealt mainly with the Temagami-Cobalt mine. Mr. Hawthorne did not stint his praise of the Temagami, its prospects and the fortunes to be made out of it. For instance, he informed one woman, a prospective investor, that an "investment of $2,000 (in the stock of the Temagami company) would make one independently rich."

After the jury had listened to a glowing description of the Temagami, Colin Timmins, who has been a miner in this country and Mexico for thirty years, told of a visit to Ontario to see the Temagami mine. He said he was met by Dr. Morton, who took him to the mine. He said he could find no trace of gold or silver, but saw some copper scattered through the rock.

F. H. Morley, a mining engineer, also testified with regard to a visit to the mine. Dr. Morton received him and accompanied him over the ground. Witness also was unable to find any evidence of silver or gold.

FOGEL WILL FIGHT

Ousted Baseball Magnate Will Appeal to the Courts.

New York, Nov. 28.—Unless the courts come to his assistance, Horace S. Fogel, former president of the Philadelphia baseball club, will be unable to represent that or any other club in the councils of the National League. Fogel, who has been on trial before the members of the league charged with attacking the honesty of the game and the integrity of President Lynch and several umpires, was found guilty after a long session and was practically expelled from organized baseball. In rendering the verdict the league stood 7 to 1 for conviction, but the magnates were extremely careful in wording the penalty in order to guard against court proceedings which Fogel says will be instituted immediately.

TOOK IT TO HEART

Auto Driver Refused License Shook Head of London Police.

London, Nov. 28.—Commissioner of Police Henry of London was shot and probably fatally wounded last night. Two shots were fired. His assailant was arrested.

Sir Edward Henry was shot just as he was about to enter his home in Kensington, by a man named Albert Bowes, aged twenty-five, who had a grievance against Scotland Yard because it refused to issue an auto driver's license to him on the ground that he had been convicted of drunkenness.

Echo of Wet and Dry Fight.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 28.—Everett Hopkins is on trial charged with assault and battery with intent to kill Rev. James C. Burkhardt, pastor of the First Christian church, on July 20 last. The attack was the result of the wet and dry liquor issue here. The state is insisting upon a prison sentence, while the defense will attempt to prove the attack upon the minister was not with intent to kill.

BOND QUESTION CAUSES FLURRY

Alleged Dynamiters Not Adequately Insured.

CONTENTION OF PROSECUTION

Discovery That Attorneys For Some of Defendants in Dynamite Trial, Who Had Given Bond For Their Clients, Had Been Indemnified by Surety Companies Results in the Bonds Being Declared Invalid.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28.—In the dynamiting cases it developed that a number of the defendants have given bonds with their attorneys as security and that in a number of cases these attorneys, before going on the bonds, demanded that they be indemnified. Judge Anderson said the bonds were clearly illegal, as the supreme court had so held. It is understood that several of the defendants cannot give bonds, and under these circumstances they will have to go to jail.

United States Attorney Miller said that he had been informed that Harding, Hovey & Newman, attorneys for the defense, who were on the bonds of certain defendants had been indemnified by cash being placed in their hands. He asked the question in open court of these attorneys if it were not true. Mr. Harding preferred to take up the matter outside the courtroom, but Judge Anderson said:

"I am not doing things outside the courtroom. What is done in this trial will be done in open court."

Mr. Miller said the quickest way was for the attorneys to answer the question at once, for if they did not he would see that it was answered by them. Mr. Harding said his firm was holding $10,000 indemnity. He said Mr. Hovey, Mr. Newman and he had become liable to a total extent of $57,000, and that when the $30,000 point was reached they had insisted that they be indemnified to the extent of $10,000. Hockin was among the first three for whom the attorneys became sureties, but his bond has been increased and he is in jail. Nearly all the defendants have given surety company bonds, and it is said that the bonds were not executed until after deposits of cash had been made.

In referring to Mr. Harding's statement that the firm of attorneys held only $10,000, Mr. Miller remarked:

"That means they lose nothing if only two defendants for whom they are surety should run away."

Opposed to Public Policy.

Judge Anderson said that as the question had been up in the federal court before, he thought there was no question about the illegality of bonds when the bondsman was indemnified.

"In other words," said the judge, "if I am on a man's bond for $10,000 and I take $10,000 when I go on his bond, I have no interest whatever in seeing that he is here. The bondsman can snap his fingers at the court. He loses nothing."

"The reason that it is not legal that a bondsman should be indemnified is that it is against public policy to have for bondsman persons who have no interest in seeing the defendants in court. I will say now that the surety company bonds were accepted by the marshal. Had the bonds been offered in open court I would not have accepted them."

"Had Mr. Harding and Mr. Hovey and Mr. Newman offered to become surety to me I would not have accepted it. I do not desire to see attorneys of this court on bonds of defendants."

If the bonds are declared invalid it probably will mean a big addition to the colony of defendants, Hockin, Smythe and Ray, now in jail because of inability to furnish bond.

The cross-examination of Ortie McManical was completed and he left the stand, but with the understanding that the district attorney might recall him later. The cross-examination brought out further details of McNamara's plan to destroy the city of Los Angeles and also make an arrangement for exploding suitcases containing dynamite when they were opened by anyone except a person acquainted with the mechanism.

Victim of Knockout Drops.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 28.—The filing of the report of Coroner Carter in the case of George Allison, an old soldier of Colfax, who died under peculiar circumstances on Oct. 26, gives authorities a murder mystery to solve. The coroner holds that Allison came to his death through chloral hydrate, known as "knockout drops."

Former County Officials in Trouble.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 28.—Suits have been brought in the circuit court here against a number of former county officers who, according to the field examiners of the state board of accounts, are indebted to the county in various amounts for failure to turn over certain fees and for making illegal allowances.

Yopp Murder Trial in Progress.

Greencastle, Ind., Nov. 28.—The trial of Thomas Howard, aged twenty, charged with killing Roscoe Yopp, a paroled inmate of the Indiana state reformatory, Sept. 7, is in progress in the Putnam circuit court. Howard's plea is self-defense.

New York, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Elizabeth H. Hearn, widow of Arthur H. Hearn, son of the founder of the Hearn stores, was married last night to Senor Dominco da Gama, Brazilian ambassador to Washington, at the mansion of Judge Elbert H. Gary, 856 Fifth avenue, by Mayor William J. Gaynor. As soon as Mayor Gaynor had performed the civil ceremony the Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant married them with the church ritual. The double ceremony was necessary according to the marriage laws of Brazil.

A STRICT CENSORSHIP ON ALL STRIKE NEWS

Big Steel Plants Making Plans Secretly.

Pittsburg, Nov. 28.—It is impossible owing to the strict censorship of all news coming out and the close guard maintained at all entrances, to secure more than meager information as to what plans the big Homestead steel works, the Edgar Thomson steel works and the Carrie furnaces have under way in their efforts to combat the strike of the trainmen which has caused the shutdown of their plants.

One new element in the strike situation was the action of the company in taking a large number of strike-breakers into the Homestead plant.

The striking trainmen met and heard the report of the committee which had conferred with the company officials. It was decided to remain firm, and the workmen will await action on the part of the company.

TRAIN DERAILED

Fatal Wreck on the Pennsylvania Near Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—Two persons were killed and eighteen injured when an express train on the Pennsylvania railroad was wrecked near Glen Loch at 10:40 last night. A day coach and three Pullmans left the track and rolled down the embankment. The train was composed of two engines, a postal car, a combination baggage and smoker, a day coach and nine sleepers. The first engine jumped the track, but the second engine and the rest of the train except the day coach and three Pullmans stayed on the rails.

THE PENALTY OF INCOMPETENCY

"Young Turks" Have Been Put Out of Office.

THE CONSTITUTION ABROGATED

Reverting to the Old Forms of Absolutism, Turkish Cabinet, After Long Planning and Seizing the Opportunity Presented by the War, Has Effected a Change of Government Over Night Without Protest From People.

Vienna, Nov. 29.—The peace parleys now proceeding at Tchataldja between the commissioners of the allies and the Turkish plenipotentiaries are not promising. The proposals on both sides are irreconcilable. The Bulgarians are preparing for the resumption of hostilities by summoning next year's recruits and the Serbian auxiliaries, who are already marching to the front.

Constantinople, Nov. 29.—A resolution has been passed by the cabinet declaring that "inasmuch as four years' test has proved that constitutional government is neither suitable nor effective in the case of the Ottoman empire, the government, in the highest interests of the empire, has decided on the abrogation of the constitution."

A state council containing a number of Christian members will be invested with a portion of the legislative powers of parliament. The government, however, will not be responsible to the state council. The announcement of an imperial irade enforcing this resolution evidently was the result of long, careful planning. Everything indicated that the absolutists had been awaiting their opportunity for months. The war with the Balkan allies furnished this opportunity.

The Young Turks were wonderfully clever as conspirators, but none of them had administrative ability. Instead of devoting themselves to the business of real reform when they gained control of the government, they played politics. They were theorists and each had a different theory of government which he insisted on trying. The result was complete disorganization of the governmental machinery. The war revealed the almost unbelievable thoroughness with which they had wrecked one of the finest military establishments in the world, proving to everyone their incompetency.

Sultan a Mere Puppet.

Even those who originally favored constitutional government could not but admit today that any change from Young Turkish rule would be an improvement. For the present, at any rate, it seemed unlikely that the latest revolution would meet with the least opposition.

That the change will mean anything to the present sultan was regarded as very unlikely. He has been ever since his elevation to the throne a mere puppet in the hands of whatever group was in control of the government, and will probably serve the absolutists as satisfactorily as he did the constitutionalists when they were in power.

Preparations for the step had been made very carefully. For days past the authorities have been quietly gathering in the Young Turkish leaders and transferring them to places of confinement on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus. Constitutionalists in high army posts have been gradually weeded out, and men who were known to believe popular government poorly adapted to Turkish requirements put in their places. Nazim Pasha, minister of war and active commander of the army, has always opposed the Young Turks. Enver Bey, the ablest man in the Young Turkish organization, has been in Tripoli since soon after the outbreak of the war with Italy.

EUROPE FACES CRISIS

War Cloud So Long Threatening Now Promises to Break.

London, Nov. 29.—Europe today may be on the verge of general warfare. The long feared crisis came with the capture of Durazzo, in Albania, by the Serbian troops. The Serbians entered this port on the Adriatic, which Austria is determined Serbia shall not have, in the face of a virtual ultimatum from Vienna. If Austria carries out its threat to fight, warfare that will involve practically every power in Europe is considered inevitable. The Serbians were offered no resistance at Durazzo. An Austrian steamer which was in the harbor departed immediately with a number of refugees after the Serbians entered the town.

A few days more may spell the future of the big powers of Europe. Behind Austria, in its demand that Albania shall retain its autonomy, is Italy and Germany, while the Serbians are backed by the triple entente, England, Russia and France. Russia already is known to be making preparations for war, and although military news from Austria is under strict censorship it is known that Austrian troops have been partially mobilized, and that the strongholds along the Russian border line have been strengthened materially within the last few days.

HELPFUL WORDS

From a Seymour Citizen.

Is your back lame and painful. Does it ache especially after exertion? Is there a soreness in the kidney region? These symptoms suggest weak kidneys. If so there is danger in delay. Weak kidneys get fast weaker. Give your trouble prompt attention. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Your neighbors use and recommend them.

Read this Seymour testimony. Mrs. George Kramer, 206 S. Broadway, Seymour, Ind., says: "A member of my family was greatly distressed by disordered kidneys and was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills. I publicly recommended this remedy in 1910 and at this time I am glad to still hold Doan's Kidney Pills in high esteem." I confirm my former testimonial.

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Kramer had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c at all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. Advertisement.

IN CHICAGO MURDER

Charles N. Conway, Who Confessed He Killed Heiress, and Wife.

HELD TO ANSWER FOR MURDER OF HEIRESS

The Two Conways Indicted at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—An indictment charging Charles Conway, the circus clown and wooden legged high diver, and Beatrice Ryall Conway, vaudeville actress and lion tamer, with the murder of Miss Sophia Singer, Baltimore heiress, has been returned before Judge Kersten. The two were held without bail.

The Singer woman was murdered on Oct. 28. Her body, bound and gagged, was found in a rooming house. She had been struck on the head with a doorknob wrapped in cloth. Her money, about $45, and clothing belonging to her and to her fiance, a Baltimore streetcar conductor, was stolen. The Conways were caught after being trailed across Indiana, to Lima, O., at the home of Conway's mother.

LOST ON FOUL

Ad Wolgast Relinquishes Championship to Willie Ritchie.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—Wildly excited throngs of fight fans at Daly City carried from the roped arena their first pugilistic lightweight champion. Willie Ritchie was hoisted on the shoulders of his supporters and 7,000 spectators made the hills echo with their exulting shouts.

With the sixteenth round having only two seconds to go, Champion Wolgast fouled Ritchie and the referee was quick to raise the local lad's glove in token of victory. The disqualification came after Ritchie had floored Wolgast twice. Whether the foul was intentional or not was the theme of discussion among thousands as they left the arena.

In the sixteenth Ritchie rushed Wolgast and landed a fierce right across to the jaw which sent Wolgast to the ropes. Again Ritchie whipped his right across and Wolgast went down. He got up groggy and after taking another right to the jaw, he delivered the two fouls that cost him the fight.

Murder at Soldiers' Home.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 29.—James Kelley, seventy-one years old, killed Thomas Harvey, sixty-nine years old, by stabbing him in the heart with a long-bladed knife. According to officers, Kelley has confessed his crime, alleging he slew Harvey in self-defense. Both are colored veterans of the civil war and inmates of the soldiers' home, where the tragedy occurred.

Haven't Picked Out a Title.

London, Nov. 29.—Premier Asquith stated in the house of commons last night that after the home rule bill had passed there would be a minister who would answer for Ireland, but it was impossible to say just now what his precise designation would be.

Robbed Railroad Station.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 29.—Robbers entered the station of the Southern railroad at Troy, Ind., and carried away a number of valuable express packages. They also robbed the office of Backus & Sons' elevator and obtained $50 in money.

Suffrage Amendment Defeated.

Detroit, Nov. 29.—The constitutional amendment providing woman suffrage in Michigan was defeated by 594 votes, according to figures just compiled in the secretary of state's office at Lansing, from every county in Michigan.

Escapes An Awful Fate.

A thousand tongues could not express the gratitude of Mrs. J. E. Cox, of Joliet, Ill., for her wonderful deliverance from an awful fate. "Typhoid pneumonia had left me with a dreadful cough," she writes. "Sometimes I had such awful coughing spells I thought I would die. I could get no help from doctor's treatment or other medicines till I used Dr. King's New Discovery. But I owe my life to this wonderful remedy for I scarcely cough at all now." Quick and safe, it's the most reliable of all throat and lung medicines. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at The Andrews Drug Co., Seymour, Ind. Advertisement.

The Rajah Diamond.

The largest known diamond before the discovery of the famous Cullinan diamond near Pretoria, afterward presented to King Edward VII. of England, was the Rajah, which once belonged to the rajah of Mattan. It is an egg shaped stone, weighing 365 carats. At one time the governor of Borneo offered for it £100,000, two war vessels fully equipped, a number of cannon and a quantity of powder and shot, but this offer was refused, the rajah believing that the fortunes of his family were connected with this gem.

A Footstool Church.

Mr. Raymond Unwin told a story relating to the building of St. John's church, South square, Westminster. The architect, he said, was reputed to have worried Queen Anne about the design. Her majesty, at length losing patience, kicked her footstool over and remarked in anger, "Build it like that." The architect fulfilled the royal wishes, and the church was built as it stands today—with the corners protruding upward like the four legs of a stool.—Reynolds' Newspaper.

More True Than Funny.

"How's Jennie and Bill?" "All right, I guess. They're livin' in a downtown hotel." "They are? Why? Why ain't they keepin' house, now that they've got married?" "Well, they thought they wouldn't go to housekeepin' for awhile." "Why not?" "They're waitin' to get rich enough to be able to buy furniture that will look well in the same room with the same stuff they got for wedding presents."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

But electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; gives you a fine appetite and renews your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. Queen Bess' Giant.

Queen Elizabeth had a Flemish porter who was over eight feet high and of great strength, and he was an extremely good natured man. Whenever he met any one who was abnormally tall he used to patronize him in a friendly sort of way, and on one occasion when he met at an inn two soldiers who were over six feet in height he said, "Come under my arms, my little fellows." And, taking them up, he walked down the room with them under his arms as if they had been children, much to their disgust.

Helps a Judge In Bad Fix.

Justice Eli Cherry, of Gillis Mills, Tenn., was plainly worried. A bad sore on his leg had baffled several doctors and had long resisted all remedies. "I thought it was a cancer," he wrote. SUFFRAGETTES GET BLAMED FOR THIS Vindictive Vandals Attack the London Mails.

London, Nov. 29.—A wholesale attack on the postal pillar boxes in the city and the west end of London last night supposedly was made by suffragettes. The destruction evidently had been carefully organized and was skillfully and silently carried out. Thousands of documents were either entirely destroyed or their addresses and contents made indecipherable. The method used was the pouring into the boxes of acid, black ink and paint. The staff of the postoffice was busy for hours sorting out the uninjured letters and trying to read the addresses of those that had been partly burned.

Among the thousands of documents affected by the vandalism were orders, checks, share certificates, contracts and agreements which are known to be irretrievably lost. A tube showing how the fluids were inserted was found in one box. It was a section of the inner tube of a bicycle tire with one end sealed. There have been no arrests.

TYPHOON'S RAVAGES

Three of the Philippine Islands Swept by Terrible Storm.

Manila, Nov. 29.—Many lives were lost during a severe typhoon which occurred yesterday, causing immense damage to property.

The storm, which was very violent, crossed the islands of Samar, Leyte and North Panay, leaving ruin in its path. The town of Tacloban, the capital of Leyte, was practically destroyed. Two steamers were wrecked in Tacloban harbor.

How many persons were killed by falling houses, flying debris and by drowning is not known, but the loss of life is reported to have been great and the damage is estimated at several million pesos.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED

This is an early Christmas doll. It will be nabbed by an early Christmas shopper.

Indeed, the early shoppers got all the good things, including good service. For when the clerks are tired and rushed they cannot give good service. They are worn out, and the goods are pretty well worn out or bought out, which amounts to the same thing.

The only way to get the best of the Christmas shopping mob is to head them off—go first—beat them to it.

The market is full of attractive dolls when the season opens, and the shoppers are glad to show them.

Later on the choice dolls are not so plentiful, and the shoppers have lost some of their spirit. It is your own fault. You should have shopped early.

The early doll is waiting for the early shopper. GO GET IT TODAY.

ASTHMA CONQUERED BY NATURE'S CREATION

A. B. SANFORD.

After suffering from asthma for several years, Mr. A. B. Sanford, of Marion, Indiana, is now enjoying good health. His health is explained fully in the following statement:

Marion, Ind., September 22, 1912. "Feeling desirous of expressing my feeling toward Nature's Creation, I cheerfully submit the following statement: I was troubled with asthma for about two years before I read about Nature's Creation and was about to give up work. I had a cough and would wheeze all the time. I could not sleep at night and appetite was very poor. I began taking Nature's Creation and before I had taken half of one bottle I could sleep good and appetite got better, in fact I felt better than I had for some time. I have been able to work every day since and am feeling good. I have recommended Nature's Creation to all whom I know to be sufferers from asthma and will be pleased to recommend it to any one, and sincerely hope my experience will be the cause of relief to some poor sufferer from asthma. Will be delighted to answer any communication in regard to the good Nature's Creation has done for me. Respectfully yours, A. B. Sanford, 906 S. McClure St."

is only one of the many received daily telling of the remarkable results obtainable at home by the use of Nature's Creation in the treatment of asthma, tuberculosis and the conditions which lead to it, such as bronchitis, impure blood and run-down system. Resolutions.

Whereas, the Supreme Dictator of the Universe has seen fit to call our Brother, Alonzo V. Lawell to that higher work beyond the vale. Bro. Lawell died November 15th, 1912. In his death, we are again reminded of the frailty of human life and sooner or later we must all bow in humble submission to the Supreme Dictator.

Therefore be it Resolved, That Seymour Lodge Number 1123 Loyal Order of Moose has lost a faithful and constant member. Brother Lawell ever sought to make our loved order and his private life a living testimony of faith in the world beyond, to which our Supreme Dictator has called him.

Be it further Resolved that our charter be draped for thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, and a copy be placed upon the minutes, that this lodge extend to the family its sympathy in this sad affair.

AWARDED A PRIZE

H. L. Bridges Writes an "Ad" for Kahn Tailoring Company.

H. L. Bridges, clerk at the Hub Clothing store, was awarded one of the prizes offered by the Kahn Tailoring Company, of Indianapolis, for the best advertisement. A large number of persons entered the contest and the prizes were awarded after careful judging. The competition for the honors was keen and Mr. Bridges success demonstrates that he knows how to get up a good, snappy "ad" which will attract attention and bring results.

BUY A FARM ON CROP PAYMENT

It is slow work buying and paying for a high price farm near Seymour. Come to Southwestern Nebraska, Dundy County, where opportunities are wider; where good productive land can still be bought low, and upon the most favorable terms.

IN A FEW YEARS YOU WILL BE A RICH MAN and it will cost you no more effort than you are exerting now.

MY PROPOSITION:
 I will sell you a good Farm on terms of one-fourth Cash, and one-half of the crop raised each year until paid, with interest at 6 per cent. on unpaid balances.

JUST A SAMPLE.
 I have a splendid 160 acres, 2½ miles from town, located in a fine neighborhood, close to school. Fine black loam soil, underlaid with clay subsoil, 125 acres of which is fine tillable land, that I can sell you for $25 an acre, on terms described above. Your first payment is just about what you would pay as rent on a farm near Seymour. In two or three years your farm here will be paid for, and you will have a nicer climate to live in and will have received just as much enjoyment out of life.

If you will write me, I will send you a beautiful Illustrated Prospectus of this Region absolutely Free and will answer any questions you wish to ask.

OFF AGIN---GONE AGIN--YOURS TRULY,--SLIM JIM!

Breadth Harry. Crime Upon Crime. Plot Upon Plot

I NOW PRONOUNCE YOU PRIME MINISTER OF WIZZLE-WIZ

YOU DO ME GREAT HONOR, YOUR MAJESTY

NOW IF I CAN BUT REMOVE HIM FROM MY PATH I WILL BE KING OF WIZZLE-WIZ BY THE NATURAL LAW OF SUCCESSION

SLAVE! FETCH ME SOME NOODLE SOUP!

AH! I HAVE IT! NOODLE SOUP, THE KING'S FAVORITE DISH!

YOUR MAJESTY, I HAVE PREPARED THIS MYSELF TO BE SURE THAT IT WAS MADE RIGHT

HEVED THAT THE PRIME MINISTER HAS LEFT KING, AND WE ARE NOW INVITED TO SIMPLE BUT IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY OF WIZPH TO THE MINISTERSHIP.

BUT TO SHOW YOU THE DASTARDLY NATURE OF THAT UNGRATEFUL BEAST NO SOONER DOES HE GET A LITTLE POWER THAN HE BEGINS TO THIRST FOR MORE.

ALREADY HE IS COOKING UP A DIRE PLOT TO GET RID OF THE NEW KING SO THAT HE CAN SUCCEED HIM TO THE THRONE. PRETTY SMALL POTATOES, THAT GINK.

HE KNOWS THE KING'S WEAKNESS FOR NOODLE SOUP, SO HE HAS PREPARED A BOWL HIMSELF, AND GOODNESS ONLY KNOWS WHAT DEADLY STUFF HE HAS PUT INTO IT.

HA! BUT ONE SPOONFUL OF THAT FATAL POISON AND HE'S A GONER! THEN I'LL BE KING!

I COULD DIE EATING NOODLE SOUP

DIDN'T SEE ANYTHING OF MY CROWN ANYWHERE ABOUT, DID YOU? IT'S MISSING.

NOT A PEEP

IT WAS VERY CLOSE INSIDE THAT SCUMP

I SUPPOSE RUDOLPH THINKS WE'RE IN THE GREAT BEYOND, NOW

WHAT! YOU HERE!

THERE IS MY CROWN!

USURPER!

I-I-THOUGHT YOU WERE DEAD!!

MUCH RESPECT FOR THE PRESENT OCCUPANT OF THE THRONE, BUT I HATE STILL MORE TO SEE RUDOLPH THERE, AND HE SPOONFUL OF SOUP REACHES ITS PRESENT DESTINATION.

BUT WHILE THAT SPOONFUL IS POISED IN THE AIR LET US SEE WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE REAL KING AND OUR FRIENDS, APPARENTLY THEY HAVE SUFFERED NO DISCOMFORTS FROM THEIR RECENT TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE
